USE OF LIQUOR

SUBSTANTIAL DECREASE IN THE NATION'S CONSUMPTION SHOWN BY LAST REPORT.

The advocates of total abstinence may feel encouraged when they read the report issued on July 27 of the present year by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. It shows that the amount of "hard" liquor consumed in the United States has dropped off tremendously in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907. During the year ending June 30, 1907, $147,556,281.56 worth of spirits was distilled from other materials than fruits, while in the last fiscal year the value of this production was only $131,789,242.59, a decrease of $15,767,038.97.

When it came to beer, though, the result was the other way around, though even then the increase was not a very large one. In 1907 the value of the malt liquors was $58,546,110.69, while for 1908 it was $58,747,559.14, an increase of $201,509.45.

The most noticeable increase comes in the consumption of cigarettes. It is very evident that in spite of the fact that there is a strenuous campaign going on against the "coffin nail," still the consumption is increasing greatly. In the last year there were 235,314,756 more cigarettes smoked than in the previous twelve months. The total consumption for the year ending June 30, 1908, reached to nearly 5,400,000,000.

The practice of taking snuff is going out more and more and $53,434 pounds less of this form of tobacco was used than in 1907. Cigars are not as popular as they were. In spite of the fact that more cigarettes were smoked last year than the year before the consumption of the heavier smoker dropped off by the surprising number of 678,167,140.

It comes to the statements of the aggregate collections from the revenue, on which can be gauged the amount of liquor in any one state or territory, Hawaii occupies the place of honor, at foot of the entire list. Some are inclined to say that this is only because this is the smallest of the islands of the country. Illinois leads with a revenue for the Federal Government of $46,122,844.97, with Kentucky second with $26,874,585.54 and Indiana a close third with $26,546,753.29. Hawaii tails along at the end with $56,878.14, in spite of the fact that the collections this year were much larger than ever before.

When it comes to the number of distilleries Kentucky takes the lead with seven, having two hundred and ninety six, while Pennsylvania follows in second place with 119.

KEEN SPORT IS TO LEAVE HAWAII

Mrs. H. L. Herbert and three children leave for Australia by the S. S. Aorangi on Saturday for a visit of indefinite duration. H. L. Herbert will remain in Honolulu for some months longer and will then probably join his family.

The Herberts have for a long time past placed their premises on the Beach road at the disposal of amateur fishermen who make a practice of angling in the channels off the Kala flats. Their generous hospitality will be greatly missed and the good wishes of a multitude of friends will follow the family to their new abode under the Southern Cross.

H. L. Herbert is a keen sportsman and is well known as a magazine writer.

JAPANESE ASKS NATURALIZATION

An interesting matter came up in the United States District Court this morning when Clerk Gus Murphy was called on by a Japanese named Masakichi Suzuki, who presented a paper from the Federal District Court for the district of Southern New York, in which it was stated that he had filed his intention to become a citizen on June 2, 1906. Suzuki then asked that he be naturalized and admitted to the full rights of citizenship.

Murphy naturally did not like the looks of the matter for the paper showed that the Japanese was born in Japan and questioning brought out that he had gone to San Francisco in 1886, had lived there three years, gone to Seattle for a year, then spent three years in Los Angeles. After that he had come to this city where he lived for twelve years, then going to New York for two years and returning to Honolulu. U. S. District Attorney Breckons was called in and told the applicant to return tomorrow morning.

A rather similar case is that of Dr. Katsunuma, of the local Immigrant Station. He was admitted to citizenship in Utah some years ago and received a passport from the American government when he wished to make a trip to Japan. The State Department, however, held that he had not been admitted to citizenship properly and cancelled his passport.

The naturalization instructions from the Department of Commerce and Labor hold as follows:

"The clerk of a court shall not receive declarations of intention or file petitions for naturalization from other aliens than of white persons or persons of African nativity or of African descent, nor from persons not residing in the judicial district in which the court is held."

This would seem to cover Clerk Murphy's duties in the matter thoroughly but the matter has been referred to Washington for a ruling.

Suzuki, when asked if he could produce witnesses who were reliable citizens to show that he had resided in the country the proper length of time, said he could and stated that he would produce R. H. Trent and Territorial Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith. He is at present working for Peter High, and while in the Territory had been employed by S. C. Allen, H. M. Dow and J. M. Dowsett.

ANOTHER TOBACCO FARM STARTING

Another tobacco farm in Kona, Hawaii, is in near prospect of materialization. E. R. Biscoe is promoting a company and has secured a leasehold of two hundred acres of land, with the privilege of another hundred, from the Bishop Estate. Mr. Biscoe has had considerable experience in tobacco culture, having been in charge of the experimental farm in Hamakua which was conducted for some years as a sub-station of the Hawaiian Experiment Station.

Jared G. Smith, former agent in charge of the Experiment Station, is rushing the construction of buildings on his tobacco farm in Kona.
